

TEACHING EXCELLENCE THROUGH SCHOLARSHIP

Hereford College of Arts, Gloucestershire College and South Gloucestershire and Stroud college
Newsletter Issue 11: October 2017

CALL FOR CASE STUDIES

Good news! The central AOC project team has made the decision to extend submission of Case Studies beyond December. However, with the project in its third stage, time is running out, so if you have any good practice to share with the wider sector and want to get published on the AOC Scholarship web pages, please get in touch with s.crowson@hca.ac.uk

EVENTS

31st October- Share your good practice in supporting students with their time management and Study Skills during a Creative Lunch at College Road Campus, 12.30-1.30, Hereford. Contact me for more details.

Thursday 9th November 2017 "Tutoring the Tutors" Webinar 12:30 pm - tickets available here. Led by Kathryn McFarlane and organised by the Centre for Recording Achievement.

"In this webinar, we will consider what support is currently provided for the webinar participants to build their confidence and competence as tutors, and what further strategies might be adopted."
Further details of forthcoming webinars, including one aimed at embedding employability, can be found on the CRC website

If you are interested in participating or facilitating a tweet chat aimed specifically for College-based higher education lecturers and managers, please contact me at s.crowson@hca.ac.uk.

OPPORTUNITIES

Call for Contributions - Radical Pedagogies: A Humanities Teaching Forum. The forum will be highly participative, promoting the dissemination and exchange of ideas in a variety of formats. Find out more at: <https://radicalpedagogies.com>
The deadline for submissions is 30th November 2017.

Call for Papers for the 5th Open University Widening Participation conference.
'Is widening participation enough?'
Conference dates: 26th and 27th April 2018, Milton Keynes. Further details here.
Deadline for submissions: December 1st 2017

Higher Education Academy Annual Conference 2017 call for papers - more details here. Deadline is December 18th 2017